ABOUT THE PROPERTY

Exceptional Property in El Paraiso

Casa Palmeras makes the most of what El Paraíso does particularly well: privacy, established surroundings and a lifestyle that naturally moves outdoors. Contemporary Mediterranean in character, the villa is framed by mature greenery and generous gardens, with large terraces and open interiors creating an easy relationship between the house, pool and surrounding landscape.

Inside, the architecture is clean without feeling clinical. Warm natural materials, soft neutral tones and large-format glazing give the main living areas a calm, considered feel, while the open-plan lounge and dining spaces extend directly towards the terraces. The contemporary kitchen is anchored by a substantial central island, designed as much for everyday use as for entertaining. Throughout the private areas, spacious bedrooms, marble-finished bathrooms and access to outdoor terraces continue the same restrained approach to design.

The outdoor spaces are where Casa Palmeras becomes particularly compelling. Covered dining areas, open terraces and sunbathing zones are arranged around the private swimming pool and landscaped gardens, allowing different parts of the... grounds to be used throughout the day.
